

EDUCATION

Southend High School for Boys

This education construction project was a traditional phased contract to form a new library, teaching, administration and welfare block linked to the existing school. The project was built in very tight constraints due to a live school environment and included UXO surveys, piling, steel frame construction and all associated works.

-  Location: Southend, Essex
-  Client: Southend High School for Boys
-  Architect: Rees Pryor Architects
-  Project Manager: PCH Associates
-  Project Value: £2.5m