Essex Wildlife Trust, Langdon

The construction of a new visitor centre at the Langdon Nature Reserve for Essex Wildlife Trust - officially opened in Summer 2021.

The project involved the demolition of the existing centre and the construction of a new timber framed, single storey building. The facility includes an education room, commercial kitchen, internal and external eating areas, retail area and all other ancillary space to enhance the visitor experience whilst at the nature reserve.

The natural look of materials used throughout the building has created a truly bespoke and special commercial facility.
