

Adam French

Construction Manager

Adam is responsible for overseeing the safe delivery of all construction projects at Horizon Construction. He has over twenty years of construction experience which involves the completion of a wide variety of highly successful schemes. Adam is focused on high standards in construction, delivering on client expectations, and building effective and collaborative relationships.

Before joining Horizon Construction, Adam worked for a highly reputable principal contractor in East Anglia. Adam's professional objectives are consistent with Horizon Construction's company values of building exceptional projects, maintaining exceptional relationships, and leading and developing exceptional people.

Adam started his career in the construction industry as a management trainee. He quickly gained his versatility, commercial awareness and industry knowledge through experience in a range of projects across multiple sectors and utilising many methods of construction.

Outside of work, Adam is a sports enthusiast. He especially enjoys football, golf and cycling. When he isn't watching, following or participating in a sport, he's spending time with his family. This includes walking his dog and enjoying the company of friends.

“Adam is focused on high standards in construction, delivering on client expectations, and building effective and collaborative relationships.”
